

Seminars at Wilhelminenberg SS2025! Welcome to our seminar series!

Students participating either in person or online can earn academic credits by enrolling in the course KV 128 804, “Ausgewählte Themen der Wildtierökologie”. Please check additional information for participation at Vetucation platform. Don't miss this opportunity to deepen your knowledge and gain valuable credits!

Participation for non-enrolled students and other guests: please request a link to the video conference by sending an email to klivv@vetmeduni.ac.at

Seminars will be held in person in a lecture hall at the Research Institute of Wildlife Ecology, Savoyenstr. 1, 1160 Vienna.

The seminar starts at 14:00/2 p.m. (CET)

March		05.03.	ALICE BALARD	UCL Genetic Institute, University College London, London, UK	Understanding the role of methylation in adaptive response to environmental pressures
		12.03.	PETER ADAMÍK	Department of Zoology, Palacky University in Olomouc, CZ/Museum of Natural History, Olomouc, CZ	Cavity-nesting birds and dormice: on overview of half a century of interactions from a nest box population
		19.03	SVEN BÜCHNER	Clinic for birds, reptiles, amphibians and fish, Working group for Wildlife Research, Justus-Liebig-University Giessen, DE/Senckenberg Museum für Naturkunde Görlitz, DE	Threats and conservation strategies for the Garden dormouse (Eliomys quercinus)
		26.03.	JULIA WALOCHNIK	Institute of Specific Prophylaxis and Tropical Medicine, Medical University of Vienna, AT	Medical Parasitology: emerging parasitic infections and current research projects
April		02.04.	MARTIN KUHLMILM	Department of Evolutionary Anthropology, University of Vienna, AT	Great ape genome diversity and museomics
		09.04.	MARIE HERBERSTEIN	Museum der Natur Hamburg, DE /Leibniz-Institut zur Analyse des Biodiversitätswandels, DE	To be announced
		23.04.	THOMAS MÜLLER	Thomas Müller, Senckenberg Biodiversity and Climate Research Centre, Frankfurt am Main, DE	Animal movement in the Anthropocene
		30.04.	WIBKE PETERS	Research Unit Wildlife Biology and Management, Bavarian State Institute of Forestry, Freising, DE	Informing wildlife management through research on the spatial ecology of ungulates

The next seminars for May and June will be announced soon

Konrad Lorenz Institute of Ethology, 1160 Vienna, Savoyenstr. 1

Research Institute of Wildlife Ecology, 1160 Vienna, Savoyenstr. 1